She was preceded in death by her father. Billie worked hard at everything she did. She grew as much in the last ten years of her life as she did in the first ten years. Billie grew stronger in her faith, happier in her marriage, more loving as a mother, more responsible and attentive as a daughter, and more secure in who she was as an individual. Her focus was on bettering herself so that she might have more to give to those who crossed her paths and to those whom she loved. Her wonderful sense of humor and sweet smile will be missed by many. Most recently she had worked at Bob Evans Restaurant in Tipp City. She was a Sunday School teacher at the First United Church of Christ in New Knoxville, where she has been a member for 33 years. Billie recently attended an Emmaus Walk in Sidney and was a faithful participant in one of the church prayer groups for seven years. Billie fought through many battles successfully. This last battle with cancer did take it's toll on her body. However, her life continues on without that body and this knowledge gave her great comfort at the end. Billie's greatest hope was that as she left this earth, people would know she was a woman of faith who loves Jesus Christ. Funeral rites will be Sunday, November 1, 2009, at the First United Church of Christ, New Knoxville. Burial will follow at the Pilger Ruhe Cemetery in New Knoxville. Memorial donations may be directed to the First United Church of Christ. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Vornholt-Miller Funeral Home in New Knoxville.
