LAURITZEN, Peter William Lauritzen

(Abstracted from information received from Peggy Lauritzen, one of Elmer's Genealogy friends)

Peter William Lauritzen, age 30, of Kissimmee, FL died Monday, December 21, 2009 at Florida Celebration Hospital in Kissimmee, Osceola County, FL. Peter was born April 23, 1979 in Mansfield, Richland County, OH to Kerry Peter and Peggy Lynn (Clemens) Lauritzen, and was a graduate of Madison Comprehensive High School. His young life revolved around music. As a young boy of four years old, he listened as his mother practiced a song that would later be performed in church. After she left the room, she heard the same song being played exactly the way she played it. It was Peter, starting his love of music at the same age and in the same manner of playing by ear just like his mother had. As his musical skills developed, he was frequently requested to play for weddings, church services, talent competitions, and funerals. His gentle and expressive touch on the keyboards brought comfort and a sense of calm to those around him. "When you are in the service of your fellow beings, you are only in the service of your God" was a scripture that Peter lived his life by. A member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) since his birth, Peter learned to serve others at an early age. He loved being involved in the many service organizations that were offered at school. He was particularly active in Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, and enjoyed setting goals and reaching them. Family and youth projects taught him to love and serve his fellow man as the Lord himself did, and not to serve for the praise or accolades that may or may not come. Many times, he gave up his lunch break at school to read to the special needs students, or to help out the teacher in any way he could. He did this for many years without family or friends even being aware of it until his graduation. Peter was especially fond of older people, and had a unique patience in walking with them, talking with them, helping them with anything they needed, and listening to them. One of the highlights of his life was serving two years in the Florida Fort Lauderdale Mission. This beloved son is survived by his parents, Kerry and Peggy Lauritzen of Mansfield; sister Harmony of Oregon; brothers Jordan (Melissa) of Washington Court House and Erik of Columbus; and nieces and nephews Jordan, Jr., Jayden, Justin, Angel and Benjamin. He was preceded in death by his grandparents: Orson and Shirley Lauritzen and Chester and Ida Clemens, who are welcoming him with open arms, along with other family members, friends, and the Lord Himself. All are invited to attend a memorial service at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 1951 Middle-Bellville Road, Mansfield on January 16, 2010. The Neptune Society of Orlando, FL performed the cremation, and a private burial at Washington Village Cemetery, Little Washington, Richland County, OH, will allow the family to say goodbye to Peter "till we meet again". In lieu of flowers, the family has asked that memorial contributions be made to "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints", c/o Bishop Matthew Parr, 1435 Brookpark Drive, Mansfield, OH 44906. Please designate the contribution to be made to "Fast Offerings"

LAWLER, Doris M. Sauerma Lawler

(Abstracted from the Evening Leader, St. Marys, Ohio - 11 December 2014)

Doris M (Sauerma) Lawler, age 93, businesswoman, philanthropist, community supporter, mother and friend, passed away Monday, Dec. 8, at the Kettering Medical Center. She was born in Dayton to the late Irvin H. and Marie (Hirsch) Sauerma. She attended The Ohio State University and graduated in 1942 with a degree in home economics. Her career started as the executive assistant manager of the restaurants at the Rike-Kulmer store in downtown Dayton. She also taught home economics in the Dayton area. In 1947 she married the late Ned E. Lawler and moved to St. Marys. She, along with her husband and mother-in-law Edith, grew Lawler's Flowers and Greenhouses into a well-respected business serving Western Ohio. She is survived by her brother, Ralph I. (Neve) Sauerma of Greenville and sons Ned J. (Kathy) Lawler of St. Marys; the Rev. Kevin J.

(Patricia) Lawler of Kettering, and Bruce D. (Lisa) Lawler of Nantucket, MA; grandson Sean (Kataiy) Leibrock and great grandson Foster Jordan Leibrock. Doris is also survived by nephews Richard I. (Jodine) Sauerman and Ted E. (Lola) Sauerman both of Lewisburg. Her niece Christine L. (Charles) Smith resides in Clarksville, TN. In her business career, she was active in the Florist Transworld Delivery organization and the Ohio Florist Association, and served in several officer capacities in both organizations. Her ability to provide floral products that well represented her clients was a great source of pride for her. She would smile when she recalled that during her six decades in business she provided wedding flowers for brides, their daughters and granddaughters. It is hard to comprehend how many life events were enhanced by the flowers provided by Doris, the Lawler family, and their splendid employees. After the death of Edith Lawler in 1961, Doris was asked to fill her seat on the board of the St. Marys Community Library, and she continued that service for over 50 years to become the first Board Member Emeritus in 2013. In 1981, she was the moving force behind the plans to build the current library building and move it from the flood prone basement of the city building. In 2002, when the demand for library services required that the facility be expanded, she again was a part of that project. Her favorite part of the library is the local history room that she sponsored which is a depository for any information pertaining to the history of the St. Marys' area. For her passionate and lengthy service to the library she was awarded the Trustee Award of Achievement from the Ohio Library Council in 2005. Mrs. Lawler served on the board of the Joint Township Hospital Foundation and provided her expertise and donations for the betterment of the hospital. As a member of the St. Marys Soroptimist Club and the St. Marys Rotary Club, she served in several capacities. Doris was designated a Rotary International Foundation Paul Harris Fellow for her support. Her work with the Rotary Club also included being a founding member of the Rotary Literacy Committee which began in 1998. This group works with the schools to provide resources for students and teachers to promote reading proficiency. She was also a member of the Shakespeare Club for literary studies for over 50 years. She and Mr. Lawler strongly supported education and through the St. Marys Community Foundation they have provided an ongoing yearly scholarship for local graduates. She practiced her faith at the Zion Lutheran Church in St. Marys where she was elected the first woman president of the congregation. She was an active member of the Woman of the Church organization. Ensuring that the church was always beautifully decorated with flowers for special holiday services was one of her special missions. When the beautiful rustic Memorial Covered Bridge over the St. Marys River was completed to complement the Memorial Park it was decided to give a special award of "Builders of Bridges" to those individuals that were a significant part of the construction. The decision was then made to carry on the award and it was to be presented to citizens that had made a notable contribution to the betterment of the community. The award is sponsored by the St. Marys Chamber of Commerce and in 2003 Doris Lawler was designated as a "Builder of Bridges". Doris had a great love of travel and during her international adventures she had visited Australia, Russia, and most of the European countries. Always a staunch supporter of the Sister Cities program, she had hosted several visitors and traveled to Hokudan-cho, now part of Awaji City, with the St. Marys delegation. Doris Lawler's consistent approach to all her affairs was to do the right thing and do it right. Her energy and enthusiasm was contagious, and she was always a welcome addition to any organization. Throughout her life she reached out to help individuals and groups with worthy projects and would lend her time, talent, and funds to the situation at hand. Joy Johnson, former director of the St. Marys Public Library, remembers Mrs. Lawler's effect on the community. "Doris was exceptionally dedicated to all things St. Marys-her church, the library, Rotary, the public schools, local community organizations and businesses..and her enthusiasm for these never wavered as she got older. "When I was hired as library director in 1974, Doris had already served on the board for over 25 years and she remained on the Board throughout my tenure there and well into the directorship of Sue Pittman. "The amazing thing is that Doris stayed creative, forward looking, and progressive throughout all those years, never wavering in her willingness to try something new and innovative. "Her ideas remained those of a young, idealistic businesswoman and benefactor, even as she approached her 90th year. I don't think we will ever know all the good she did for the community or all the lives she touched during her own long life, but we have lost one of our best and brightest." Funeral rites for Mrs. Lawler will be Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church, St. Marys. Burial will follow at Elm Grove Cemetery, St. Marys. Miller-Long and Folk Funeral Home, 314 W. High Street, St. Marys handled the arrangements.
