KAHLER, Ruth Chamberlain Kahler

(Abstracted from the Tallahassee Democrat on June 12, 2017)

Valdosta artist Ruth Chamberlain Kahler, Associate Professor Emeritus of Art at Valdosta State University (VSU), died peacefully and quietly on 6/5/2017 at Fellowship Home with several members of her beloved family at her side. Many more of her family were able to say their good-byes before she died. As another family member said upon hearing the news, "Although I'm glad of it, I must say I'm surprised she went 'quietly into the night'. It just doesn't seem her style!" Ruth was anything but ordinary. Ruth was born in Augusta, Maine March 2, 1918 to Joseph and Leila Hutchins Chamberlain. She had an older sister, Catherine Chamberlain McCraw and a brother Richard J. Chamberlain, both of whom preceded her in death. Her brother-in-law Gordon McCraw and sister-in-law Hilda B. Chamberlain, whom she loved like siblings, also preceded her. Art = Ruth. As a child in first grade, Mrs. Kahler drew beautiful pictures of girls and sold them for a penny. Ruth was so good at art that in the 1930's as a young 16 year old girl she was accepted and attended the Moore College of Art and Design in Philadelphia on a full scholarship. In the 1960's, she earned both a Bachelor's and a Master's in art at Florida State University. She then taught art at Leon High School in Tallahassee before moving to Valdosta to teach at VSU in the art department for many years until she retired. She was also a member of Phi Kappa Phi and The National Honor Society. Professor Kahler's art experiences included fashion illustration in Washington DC and Baltimore, teacher, painter, art critic and weaver. She conducted workshops and museum tours in the United States and Europe. Mrs. Kahler exhibited many places in the Southeast. Her paintings and fiber constructions hang in homes, professional offices and public buildings in Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Texas, and California. Ruth was a member of First Christian Church, the Valdosta Arts Commission Guild, and the D.A.R. as well as being honored by the D.A.R. as Woman of the Year in 2015. Ruth traveled extensively in the United States and abroad. She was called by those who knew her, a "Collector of People" because she lovingly collected people worldwide beginning with the Marcel Gouge family in France, Tom & Pat Douthwaite of England, and Gretta O'Rourke of Ireland. These people visited and traveled with our Ruthie often in the USA and she visited and traveled with them overseas. The people that she "collected" are far too many to name, but friends of her children, of her many nieces & nephews, of her grandchildren, of her friends friends, caregivers...well, the list is endless. Suffice to say she was adored as Ruth, as Auntie Woofie, as Ruthie, as Skippy, Mom II, as the Queen Mum, as well as Mrs. Kahler...the teacher of many. To say that she also inspired other artists would be an understatement! The palette of the world is filled with more color because of this amazing woman. She painted her last painting just 3 days before her death. Ruth is survived by two sons and a daughter: Fred Kahler (Karen) of Shreveport, LA; David Kahler (Jane) of Apopka, FL; and Janice K. Smith (Andy) of Valdosta, GA; grandchildren: Michael Sheffield (Cris) of Valdosta, Drew Smith of Atlanta, Kahler Ruth Smith of Valdosta GA, Angie Kahler (Ngawang Jamchen) of Armidale, Australia, Tavis Kahler (Jessica) of Apopka FL, Jamie Hendrix (Caroline) of Shreveport, Kristen Mosura (Michael) of Bossier City, Chad Hendrix (Karen) of Blanchard, and Katy Le Baue of Lake Charles LA, as well as 14 great grandchildren; and 9 nieces and nephews including Leila McCraw Shuffler of Tallahassee, who adored her as a second Mom. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Valdosta State University Foundation College of the Arts for an art student scholarship; to First Christian Church, 1905 N Patterson St, Valdosta, GA 31602; to the Turner Center For The Arts, 527 N Patterson St, Valdosta, GA 31601; or to a charity of your choice. Services will be Sunday June 18th, at the First Christian Church (address above) in Valdosta. The family will receive visitors in the Fellowship Hall and Ruth's Celebration of Life will be in the Sanctuary. Bring nothing but love and memories to share. Life simply will not be the same without her presence.

KARLE, A. A. Karle

(Abstracted from the 9 May 2017 Waycross, GA Journal Herald Newspaper)

A.A. "Gus" Karle, age 90, of Waycross, died Sunday (May 7, 2017) at the University of Alabama-Birmingham Medical Center after a brief illness. Born in Crawfordsville, IN on March 19, 1927, "Gus" was the son of Albert Bernard Karle and Elizabeth Wallace Karle. Graduating from Crawfordsville High School, he embraced the school's motto, "Enter to learn, go forth to serve." There, he participated in varsity football, Radio Club, Debate-Speech Club, was senior class president, and captured two statewide high school oratorical contests. In addition, he was chosen to represent an entire student body, along with administrators, to form the first student council. His oratory and leadership skills continued to blossom when, as a freshman at Wabash College, he was the first freshman in the 100-year history of the Baldwin Oratory Contest to have claimed this distinctive title. He married Barbara Hipp from Linden, IN. Together, they had 10 children. Barbara died in 2006. As a loving couple of 54 years, he proclaimed Barbara as his "rock." After God, family was a priority with his 10 children, 17 grandchildren, and 18 great-grandchildren. The incredible number of ballgames, graduations, weddings and other special activities he and Barbara attended was outstanding. To Gus, being an integral part of the lives of his family was foremost in his life. Always passionate about trains, Gus had different "gigs" on the farm, with his father's bakery and in banking, but none gave him the fulfillment as that of railroading. His stints with the Florida East Coast, New York Central, Atlantic Coast Line along with merged railroads, led him to design, construct and begin operating Rice Yard. In 1978, he was promoted to terminal superintendent. Upon his retirement from CSX Railroad in 1983, he continued to work "behind the scenes" as a consultant with CSX and served as a liaison with the community. His expertise was highly valued among local and railroad officials. He retired from that position June 1, 2016. Affectionately known as "Mr. Waycross," his love of community and service to his community are evident in his extensive recognitions and awards. Having served on numerous non-profit boards, Gus has served on 16 boards and chaired 12 of these. As a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, he chaired the finance committee for 25 years, and served on the Diocese of Savannah Advisory Board for five years, acting as chair for four years. In addition, he and Barbara were recognized by the Diocese of Savannah with the Frances X. Gartland Award for their service to St. Joseph Catholic Church. Yet, his highest distinctions are in service to others and his community. His role with the Childers Family YMCA, Waycross College, Okefenokee Technical College Foundation, Satilla Health Foundation, and Okefenokee Regional Library have earned him the tribute of the Exchange Club's honoree of Book of Golden Deeds. In addition, in 2003 Gus was recognized by the Jewish community as recipient of the Morris Jacobson Brotherhood Award for his continued service to the community. In 2016, the Waycross-Ware County Sports Hall of Fame recognized Gus with the F.J. Beverly "Beacon of Light Award" for his impact on the community. As recipient of the Ralph and P.O. Herrin Business and Industry Award, Jack Williams Outstanding Service Award and ultimately the A.A. Karle Community Service Award as his namesake, he was additionally recognized for his selfless contributions to Waycross-Ware County. His work as executive director of the Waycross-Ware County Chamber of Commerce, and ultimately the Downtown Waycross Development Authority, his impact on business and industry has been immense for the community. Along with his parents, he was preceded in death by his wife, Barbara H. Karle, and three children, Betsy Karle, Steve Karle and Marty Karle. He is survived by his children, Mary (Joe) Woodruff of Waycross, Daniel (Norma) Karle of Greenwood, SC, David (Linda) Karle of Childersburg, PA, Dr. Ginny Karle (Lou) Bridges of Birmingham, AL, Chris (Darlene) Karle of Blackshear, Matthew (Rita) Karle, of Jacksonville, FL, Kathy (Bo) Aldridge of Blackshear; 17 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren; a sister, Krish McClamroch, of Crawfordsville, IN; a brother, Bernard (Linda) Karle of Ft. Myers, FL; numerous other relatives and many friends. A memorial service will be Wednesday at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Waycross. A Mass of the Resurrection to celebrate the life of Gus Karle will be held Saturday at St. Bernard Catholic Church in Crawfordsville, IN. Burial will follow in Calvary Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to a charity of one's choice. Miles-Odum Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

She leaves, her two puppies, Patty and Bandit, her two kitties, Jackie and Jill, a flock of love birds, and a school of fish behind.
